

Fan Artifact Presentation Schedule

Here is the lineup for Fan Artifact Presentations. I tried to give everybody their first or second choices, but this was not possible in every case. Please remember that your artifact and accompanying text should be posted to the blog by noon on Monday before class. In weeks that have more than two presentations, you may shuffle the teams if you want to focus on one set of readings over another. And in weeks that have "TBA" screenings, feel free to make suggestions for what to show.
